Declaration

Product conforms to relevant UK and EU food safety legislation and will be free from adulteration, Genetically Modified materials or derivatives thereof. This product has not undergone any ionising radiation process. In the event of changes to this specification, all corresponding paperwork will be updated when revised.

Whilst all due and practical care has been taken to ensure this product is free from contamination and extraneous matter, BW Catering cannot guarantee that such materials will be totally eliminated, given the growing and subsequent processing of primary agricultural products.

We strongly advise customers to take utmost care inspecting all incoming products before storage.

Signed delivery notes indicate receipt of goods in a satisfactory condition and retrospective claims for damage cannot be upheld. BW Catering cannot accept complaints of infestation once product has been stored for more than seven working days after delivery because of the risk of cross contamination. All complaints which are not substantiated by robust evidence will be automatically rejected.
